This week, in Fox Class, we have been learning about the Chinese New Year. We have made red envelopes and lanterns decorated with Chinese symbols. Also we have created power-points about other Chinese traditions.

This week, hedgehogs have been looking at states of matter. We estimated how long it would take for different substances to change their state. We then recorded our findings in a table.

We have been learning about what the different parts of a castle are called.

This week Rabbit class have also been writing newspaper reports about Rumpelstiltskin.
